INFORMATION

In presenting my 17th annual catalog and price list, I wish to thank my many friends and customers for the liberal trade extended me in the past and to assure you of my appreciation of your continued patronage, which we will make every effort to merit.

I urgently request trial orders and correspondence from new customers, feeling confident that you will be pleased with my stock and method of doing business.

My stock is all budded or grafted on strong two-year-old roots (no piece root grafts), therefore, when you get a one-year-old tree you have a three-year-old root, a two-year-old tree, a four-year-old root, and so on, the root being two years in advance of the tree, which is sufficient to insure a strong and rapid growth.

I am located fourteen miles north of Seattle, on the G. N. R. R. a 45-minute ride from Seattle, or via Seattle-Everett Interurban, get off at Richmond Highlands and go one mile west. Auto stage, Arcade Bldg. 1st Ave, Seattle. Visitors always welcome.

I do a strictly mail order business, employing no agents, which enables me to save my customers from 25 to 50 per cent.

Guarantee—I guarantee all stock true to name and will replace any that may prove otherwise, or will refund the original purchase price, but will not be responsible for more than the price paid for stock, and all sales are made with this understanding.

PRICES AND DELIVERY—It is my aim and intention to give good value to all purchasers. Mail orders receive personal attention in selecting and packing, and will be shipped in accordance with instructions. We can send small items by mail, also to out-of-the-way points not reached by express lines. Ten per cent of order should be added to cover postage charges. If no shipping instructions are given, orders will be sent by express or freight, as I may judge most convenient and satisfactory, customer paying the charges but our responsibility ceases in all cases with delivery to transportation company on outside orders, and Seattle orders are delivered free within city limits. Transportation charges, by express or freight, are not high as both are given low special rates.

NOTICE—My customers are requested to notify me immediately if all stock is not satisfactory (error in filling order) or any grievance whatever so I may at once make ample amends, as I desire to conduct my business in all respects satisfactory to those who favor me with their confidence. You are requested to call at nursery and select your stock, or order by mail, which will receive my prompt and personal attention. Give full shipping instructions, sign name plainly, and if by boat give name of some landing at your place.

PLANTING SEASON—It is advisable to order early as a better selection and more complete assortment can be had. I advise early fall planting for all nursery stock in all coast sections, beginning about November 1st, but can be very successfully done as late as April 15th.

I will be pleased to submit prices by letter on list of wants. Any information you may desire will be cheerfully given. Correspondence solicited.

LANDSCAPE DEPARTMENT—Best results are attained in landscape and other gardening work when both experience and taste work together. Our Landscape Department is under well-equipped and expert management. We are always glad to offer suggestions without charge to intending purchasers, but where landscape problems require special visits, plans, specifications, etc., a charge is made consistent with value of services rendered. We will be pleased to take up this matter more fully with those who are interested.
PREPARING TREES FOR PLANTING

Upon receipt of trees from the nursery, bundles should be opened at once and checked with the order. They should then be placed at a slant in a trench dug to the depth of one to two feet and covered with soil to at least one foot above the roots, packing the same by pouring water or tramping the soil about the trees. If it is late in the spring and the weather is warm and dry, especially if there is any sign of bark shrivelling, the whole bundle of trees or shrubs should be laid flat in a trench and covered, tops and all, with at least one foot of soil, after which the trench should be filled with water each day for three or four days. By this time the trees will have absorbed sufficient moisture to make the bark plump and full. They are then ready for planting.

In case it is not convenient to heel in the trees at once, the whole bundle may be dipped in a tub of water, or held under the faucet to moisten the packing well, after which they may be kept for a day or two in a cool shady place until planted.

Prune carefully the bruised and broken parts of the roots, preferably with a sharp knife. Cut on a slant in such a way that the face of the cut will be downward when the tree is set in an upright position.

HOW TO PLANT

The holes should be staked out and dug before exposing the trees. The roots must be protected carefully from the sun and drying winds, as either will very soon wither up the fibrous roots which are necessary for quick and vigorous growth. The holes should be dug from six to twelve inches larger than the roots of the trees, to allow for filling in a few inches of loose soil, on top of which the tree should be planted to the depth it formerly stood in the nursery row. Take out for planting at one time only as many trees as can be planted in a reasonable time, to insure proper protection. In digging deep holes, the surface soil should be kept separate from the sub-soil. In planting the better soil should be used next to the roots. The trees should be placed in the hole with the roots spread out in their natural position, filling the best soil carefully about the roots and firmly trampling in the same. Continue filling and tramping in until near the level of the ground, then see that the last few inches of soil are loose, so as to hold the rainfall and other moisture. Never round up the soil in a mound about the tree, as this turns away the water. Mulching with manure, straw, leaves and similar materials will help hold the moisture and keep the ground from cracking and baking, adding fertility and insuring vigorous growth.

PRUNING

In transplanting trees that have been moved without balls of earth attached to the roots, the tops should be pruned to secure a balance between the top and the root system. This is a matter of judgment, however and no set and fast rule can be applied.

The first object is to establish a balance between the top and the roots, cutting off all bruised and broken branches. The second is to shape the top so as to make a good foundation for a well-shaped tree. Of course, this cannot be done at one time. It is necessary each year to look after the shape of the tops, selecting such branches as are most desirable for the building of the tree; then cutting off the surplus. This applies especially to fruit trees. For apple trees, it is a general rule to cut back each year one-half of the last season's growth. Shade trees and other ornamental stock, including shrubs and evergreens, are pruned only for desired shape.

The best time for pruning fruit trees, in the Puget Sound country, is the month of January and not later than the end of February while on the east side of the Cascades it may be done one month later. All Winter pruning and spraying should be done at the time when the trees are dormant.
SPRAYING AND TIME TO SPRAY

The spraying of fruit trees has proven to be an absolute necessity. Our mild climate is naturally favorable to the growth of considerable fungi and insect pests, and without spraying it is impossible to grow healthy trees or produce good, clean fruit. It is of the greatest importance that trees from the time of planting, be kept growing without check. The trees should be kept clean and free from moss, as well as insect pests. Whitewashing tree trunks is a common error. The only benefit received is elimination of moss, but much harm is done by clogging the pores of the bark.

After the trees are pruned, spraying is in order. Winter spraying must be done before the buds begin to swell. Old trees, if dirty and mossy, should first be cleaned with soap and water or with a solution of one can of Concentrated Lye to ten or twelve gallons of water, applied with a spray pump, which is the easiest way to reach the tops. On the larger limbs or trunk a scrubbing brush may be used to advantage. After trees are clean, use a suitable Winter spray, applying same on a calm day when trees are dry. Where trees are infested with scale or other pests, two spraysings are necessary, the second applied one or two weeks after the first. Summer spraying should be done as necessity arises, depending upon the kind of pest. Generally the first summer spraying of fruit trees is applied by the time the blossoms are dropping, being followed by a second and third spraying according to the pest to be eliminated. The neglected tree can never produce good fruit. The commercial orchardist can attain success only by directing proper attention to the pruning, spraying and general care of his trees. The owner of a small home orchard will find himself well repaid for the little time and material required to insure an abundant yield of fine, clean fruit.

WHEN AND HOW TO PLANT

This climate is very peculiar and well adapted to a wide range of varieties of Nursery stock that heretofore has been successfully grown only in certain parts of Europe. The varieties range from the hardiest to semi-tropical plants. Evergreens especially thrive better in our climate, obtaining better growth and color than in any other part of the world.

Evergreens may be successfully transplanted the year round providing sufficient water is used, but the best time to transplant is early in the fall or late in the spring. Ornamental deciduous trees and shrubs and all kinds of fruit trees and berry bushes may be set out any time after the rainy season commences (generally some time in November) until the first of April. The early planting, however, is much preferable as it gives the trees and plants a chance to establish a new root system before the dry season commences. Any size plants or trees may be transplanted successfully providing they have been properly cared for in the Nursery. Our stock is transplanted every two or three years thereby producing a root system that will hold firmly to a ball of soil on the Evergreens, and a mass of fibre roots on the deciduous trees, insuring full success in transplanting.

We make a specialty of large size fruit trees in varieties most adapted to this climate. These are transplanted every year in our Nursery to insure a perfect root system and can be set out by the planter as safely as smaller trees. Many of these trees are highly ornamental, producing fruit as well as beautifying the home. Our stock is large and complete. We invite requests for estimates on planting of large orchards.

CONIFERS—EVERGREENS

The Pacific Coast is rich in its evergreens. Probably no section is more favored in regard to size, variety and quality of its evergreen trees. Climatic conditions are responsible for this; therefore, it is no wonder that varieties brought from other localities likewise flourish.

Transplanting of evergreens is necessary as long as they remain in the nursery in order to promote the growth of fiberous roots; and no stock sent out has rested more than two years in one place. This frequent transplanting is expensive and figures in the cost of large-sized trees, but it insures success of stock growing after being planted in its permanent location.

Evergreens are always dug with a ball of earth and securely wrapped in burlap. Previous to final planting, this ball of earth should be thoroughly soaked before the burlap is removed. Many prefer planting without removing the burlap, to lessen the danger of breaking the small fiberous roots; simply loosen the strings and cutting away top portion of burlap after the plant is placed in the hole to receive it.

ROSES AND THEIR CULTURE

In our superb climate roses attain a perfection seldom equalled, but we cannot expect them to thrive unless we plant and properly care for them. We therefore offer the following suggestions:

Roses thrive best in rich sandy clay loam, but will do well in any good garden soil if properly fertilized either with well decomposed cow manure or good commercial fertilizer. On the Pacific Coast roses may be planted in the fall after they drop their leaves and at any time during the winter.

Upon receiving Roses for planting they should be immediately uncovered and heeled in, covering with soil all of the roots and at least half of the stems, then pour a bucket of water over them or sufficient to wash the soil all among the roots. If on a warm or windy day shade them.

In preparing for the planting dig a trench in good soil mixed with fertilizer at least to the depth of two feet, set the plant deep so that the soil covers above the graft one or two inches. Firm the soil down solid and water well until the soil is washed among the roots. Before planting or just after they are put in the soil trim the bushes and thin them out leaving three or four branches and cut the branches back at least one half of last year's growth. The trimming should be repeated each year afterwards as they will produce better flowers with longer stems.

To prevent mildew the Roses should be watered in the morning and not in the evening especially if the nights are cool. Never sprinkle the tops of Roses in the middle of the day in the heat of the sun. Keep the surface well worked around the plants keeping all the weeds out and apply fertilizer once or twice during the season if necessary.

Our Roses are the choicest two and three year old stock. We have over two hundred varieties of the most select, new as well as old sorts. We can furnish most of them in large quantities. Write for special prices on lots of one hundred or more.

All Roses, one-half dozen at dozen rate. Roses at 75c each are 3 for $2.00. Roses at $1.00 each are 3 for $2.75. Roses at $1.50 each are 4 for $5.00. Ask for quantity prices.

PERENNIALS AND HARDY FLOWERS

This section includes what are popularly known as old-fashioned hardy flowers as well as innumerable varieties of recent introduction, most of them of great value.

The use of perennial plants is decidedly on the increase, for the pleasures of a garden of such flowers never cease. Flowers can be had from very earliest Spring until the ground freezes in the Fall. Caring for the plants is a change and relaxation, as they require no skilled or heavy labor, and gloriously repay the attention bestowed upon them.

The following list covers plants that have proven satisfactory in the Northwest. My aim is to supply the best quality of strong, field-grown that will give immediate results.

October is the best time for planting Peonies, Japanese Lillies, Iris, etc. Other perennials can be planted any time from October until late Spring, but best results are to be had from early planting.

Our plants are usually too large to send by mail, and should be sent by express, although in the Fall and early Spring they can be safely sent by freight, when the quantity is large. Shipments under 100 pounds really go cheaper and better by express, as there is a special low rate given on this class of stock. Parcel post shipments are satisfactory on very small quantities or to inaccessible points.
